

Exclusive River Cruise Sale with AmaWaterways

I don't typically bombard clients with sales and promotions but one just came across my desk that I must share. AmaWaterways, a 5 star river cruise line, is offering 50% off their advertised rates on approximately 25 cruises this Fall and Winter. This is a private sale which means you won't find these rates anywhere else. For example, the Enchanting Rhine 7 night sailing on 11/9/16 that begins in Amsterdam and ends in Basel, Switzerland is normally $2,799 per person but is on sale for $1,400 per person (entry level cabin). The Treasures of the Main and Rhine is a 7 night sailing which departs Nuremberg, Germany on 12/26 and ends in Amsterdam on 1/2/17 (New Year's celebration included!). The normal price is also $2,799 per person and is now $1,400 per person. There are more itineraries to choose from, most in Europe but a few on the Mekong in Vietnam and Cambodia! These fares will go fast, if you're thinking about taking advantage of them call me now!

Now is the time...

Is Alaska on your bucket list? Why wouldn't it be- glaciers, fjords, wildlife, oh my! Most visitors to Alaska take a cruise and some combine it with a land package as well. The travel season in Alaska is only from May-September which means the available ship sailings book up quickly. Most of the major cruise lines have Alaska itineraries, including Celebrity and Disney. Call me to discuss the right cruise for you.

Meet the Autism on the Seas staff

I've been invited to tour Royal Caribbean's "Anthem of the Seas" with Autism on the Seas October 15. I will be bringing a group of potential cruisers with me to tour the ship and speak with the Autism on the Seas staff. We will experience first hand how they assist families with special needs children take a well-deserved family vacation. Contact me to sign up for the free tour of the ship while it's docked in Bayonne, NJ! info@boundfortravel.com

Q: Is there any rhyme or reason why different countries have different color passport covers?

A: Surprisingly, there isn't.

In general, passports come in red, green, blue or black. You might think that every continent uses the same color or that it's based on some other geographical standard (I did). But it's up to each individual country to choose the color. A red cover is used by many communist (or former communist) countries, such as China and Russia. Others choose a color based on faith. Most Muslim countries have green passport covers because that color is an important element of their religion. How about the US? We have blue covers as they're typically associated with "New World" countries in North and South America and Oceania (like Australia).
So now you know!

ABOUT NICOLE

My love of travel was sparked at the age of 16, when my parents took my sister and I on a whirlwind tour throughout 8 European countries. Between sampling the local foods, seeing some of the most famous sites in the world, and interacting with the friendly local people, I was hooked. I have instilled the same love of travel in my daughters, and I hope to inspire my clients to continue to explore the world around them.
